They all have the names of the Douglas candidates for the Le-plature, though a Will County specimen has the names of two Republicans and one Doug-laste. Look out sharp for all these mongrel concerns. United States Distract Count.—In this Court yesterday the case of People vs. Powers for larceay of a letter was on trial. The jury gave their verdict yesterday afternoon. John Powers, the defendant is a young man of about twenty-two years of age, formerly a school teacher at Onarga. The offence was committed at that pidoc some weeks since, when the letter in question came into his possession for delivery to its owner. Powers opened it and yielded to the temptation of possessing himself of a draft for $300 contained therein. A new crime followed or was unged on by the first, and he forged an endorsement, and coming to this city attempted to avail himself of his booty by purchasing a bill of $80 worth of clothing at W. S. Bond's, where however his motions attracted suspicion and he was watched, and finally the whole case was brought to light, in manner as by as at the time narrated. The jury yesterday brought in a verdict acquitting him of having feloniously obtained the letter, as it was clearly delivered to him, but found him guilty of the larceny of its contents. A motion for arrest of judgment was made on the ground that the verdict and the indictment had no possible connection or relation, and the Court intimated as much in fixing the time to hear the argument on said motion to day.

We have in addition to them the pro-ceedings of a caucus here, in which Mr. Doug-las principal supporters in Illinois took part, and in which it was determined that his only chance for success lay in his opposition to the nefarious scheme for which he, more than any other living man, is reasonagible. If Mr. Douglas is willing to confess that he has no principles which may not be purchased with a term in the Senate, we have made a lucky escape. If those who say this of him do him no wrong—if he has given Republicans in Congress or elsewhere reason to believe that he waited only for a formal offer of the Senatorship at our hands, before assenting to the doctrines which we hold, and that all his present efforts in behalf of a greed that he lawardly detests, only that a reward may follow,—he cannot be ovethrown become.

Nearly all the prominent nigger drivers in the Union have now declared themselves in the Union have now declared themselves in favor of Dr. aglas. Wise of Virginia, Hang-man Foote: of Mississippi, Dixon of Kentucky, Jones of Tennessee, Stephens of Georgia, Orr of South Carolina, Brown of Mississippi, the New! Orleans Della, the organ of the for-eign slave-traders, the Richmond Enquirer, the hore allowed the parts of the boxes of the boxes of the parts of the pa organ of the home slave-traders-have all for him or published articles for him. If Bully Brooks were alive we cap or a series of stump speeches from him, to the same purport. Among the thousands and tens of thousands who are holding their breath in suspense for the result in Illinois, the overseers of the Carolinas, the fillibusters of Louisiana and the Border Ruffians of Missouri, are the most zealous and eager. Doug-las is their candidate. They have looked on till they can look no longer without crying out. Hence a fire-cater in one quarter writes to a compromise-breaker in another that he is mortally opposed to Lincoln and in favor of Douglas. The latter replies that he is "as-tonished that any one could ever have thought therwise"-and both letters are straightway ing slavery over the continent, whoever is interested in the price of niggers, whoever is an intense hater of the North and her instiutions—all are for Douglas.

There are a few more days left, and we say, let's have the rest of them. Hammond of "mud-sill" renown, Drunken Dave Atchison, and Toombs with his prospective chain gang on Bunker Hill, are of course all the same way. Let's have their letters three days before the election and we will make five thousand more votes. Slavery every-where-slavery without end, is the rallying laring for Douglas. If there be any ardent written a letter for Douglas, we tell him by all means to hurry up his cakes.

Too Late, Gentlemen! It is too late for the friends of Mr. Dougas outside of Illinois to ply Republicans here with entreaties and arguments in favor of re-turning him to the Senate. There is not one our party friends in the State who will not turn a deaf ear to all their appeals, if he does not indeed send a malediction after those who make them. The die is cast. The forces are drawn up in hostile array, and the battle nust go on! Let the intermeddlers and

In the Dublin (Ireland) Hospital Guzette, we find a valuable contribution by Dr. Wm. After giving the details of some inter-acting cases which came under his own notice, the writer status that in Loadon, where the mor-tality among children is thirty-five per cent, the mortality in the children's hospital was on-ly fourtaen per cent.

In Paris the mortality of the city among chil-dren under five years of age is twenty-eight per cent,; while in the children's hospital it has only been about 19% per cent, for a number of years.

CREAT DEMONSTRATION AT MACOMB. FOUR THOUSAND PERSONS PRESENT monstrations at Macomb that ever came off in this part of the State. Early in the morning the Quincy delegation, consisting of upwards of four hundred live Republicans, accompanied by the Quincy Guards and Blues in full uniform with their music, left this city to do honor to Abra-ham Liscola, the champion of free principles in Illinois. The weather was dreary and foggy during the morning, but the enthusiasm of the during the moraing, but the enthusiasm of the Republican host defied the elements. All along the road crowds had assembled to greet us and swell our number, until finally the conductor was obliged to run by several stations without stopping, there not being even standing room left. On arriving at Macomb we were received crowd of the bard working Republicans of McDonough and the surrounding counties. The streets were muddy, the sidewalks slippery and things overhead decidedly damp. We were then escorted by the citizens, on foot, in wagons and on horseback to the new and commodious. Randolph House, placed at the disposal of our military companies for the day by Mr. Randolph and accomplished gentieman, a staunch Republican and one of the best landlords in the State. On arriving in front of the Hotel three tremendous cheers gave us their welcome to Macomb. On arriving in front of the Hotel three tremendons cheers gave us their welcome to Macomb.

About this time a delegation from the northern part of the county entered the town, and in passing around the public aquare were attempted to be scopped by a squad of Douglas riff-rafa.
An old gentleman, near sixty years of age, jumped in among them and in rather less than no time four of the drunken buillies were sprawling in the mud. We were not interrupted again during the day.

The people kept pouring in notwithstanding the rain kept pouring down. At noon Old Abe arrived escorted by a procession over a mile long, and was met by a similar caravain of the people of

As soon as the procession came in sight the crowd commenced cheering, and kept if up in a continuent until until Mr. Lincoln 'eached the Hotel. At two o'clock Mr. Lincoln commenced, speakingthe Court Houses Signare to an audionec of over four thousand persons, who stood there in the mnd, and fog, and driadle through his whole speech. Of his argument I need only say that it completes the Quincy debate in which Douglas was so onmercitally thrashed, and was received with great cheers and enthusiasm.

There is probably no county in the State in which there is a greater variety of political influences resulting from old party predefictions and loss associations, than in this; there is certainly none in which each and all of these ents enter so importantly into the comp tion of the Republican party. A fair analysis of these, as they exist here, would be a tolerably faithful birdseye view of the same things as inflaoring the State canvass.

In the mixed composition of the Republican party here, the opponents of freedom have flattered themselves that they perceived elements of discord. We accordingly find them watching with a most tender solicitude the faintest budding promise of disaffection. One day you may hear Democratic band-organs discoursing most pathetic music over the wrongs suffered by the lold Liberty Party element; that the Republican platform is diluted, and that these men are pro-scribed. The next day the melody will be changed. You will hear that the Republican party is completely aboltionized, both as to men and measures. You will hear the conservative patriotism of Clay extolled in lofty strains, and if some deluded gudgeon is caught with such chaff—if some Dickey can be persuaded that the manile of the Kentucky statesman has descended upon the man who "don't care whether slavery is voted up or down," you will hear a most blakm flourish of guns and trumpets. branches, as well as English literature, and some knowledge of Latis and French.

At the age of eleven, he began to develop that dangerous adroitness of the pen which we think that contributed more to his downfall and ruin than any other influence. His father being an expert lorger, and connected with gangs of counterfeiters in Canada, Ohto, and the central part of New York, Iralived in close association and under the jorisdiction of his father and others, who at times forced him to perpetrate claotrate pieces of forgery, and other criminal negotiations. A short part of his life was passed in Canada under the instructions of several friends of his father's, under the best engrivers and forgers in that region, and where rin's acquaintance with the mannifacturing of had money—filling up bank bills and other operations—was perfected. Under these combined influences the worst part of his character was developed. And while the intellectual was rendered more acute, penetrating and condeent, the moral perception was blunted, chillied and corrupted. He traveled to different places under the direction of letters framished by his father, visited those who were intimately connected with the Northern gangs, receiving and conveying information of any new counterfeit issues, and countersigning the forged bills for different persons.

State Credit in Aid of Railroads—The Question in Iowa. Question in Iowa.

The Davenport Gazette of the Stih'says:

The question is about being agitated as to the propriety of loaning the credit of the State of Iowa to the four great lines of railroad crossing its territory from East to West. The idea was started some time ago in a Chicago paper, and responsive notes of various kinds were given by the Iowa press. It has been again revived, and most probably a convention will meet in Iowa City about the first of December, whose chief business will be to discuss the measure and mature some plan for operation, if the project is practicable.

The question, when fairly up, will elicit a

Hon. Will. C. Moreou of Indiana. (Correspondence of the Press and Tribane.)

Hon. Will. C. Moreou, the Indeed young orator-from Indians, fulfilled an appointment previously made for him by the State Executive Committee at this place last evening. The weather was very inclement, yet the Coart Housewas filled at an early hour with an intelligent and enthusiastic audience. The Urbana Brass Bund onthusiastic audience. The question, when fairly up, will elicit a warm discussion. One party assume that the project is prohibited by the provisions of the Constitution which deny to the State, as such, the power to contract any debt exceeding 4350,000, and object to it on grounds of expediency; the other, that those provisions do not transmel the people in their legislative capacity, and that immense benefits would result to the State by lending its credit in the way proposed. ras present, and by their fine music added to the

THE STEPHENS WIFE POISONING CASE,

Every day we hear fresh confirmation of the extraordinary richness of the newly discovered gold mines in Western Kansas. It would appear that this sudden fever for digging gold which has of late appeared in various parts of the continent, is a natural sequence of the "crisis," and another evidence of the recupe-(From the N. Y. Evening Post, 28th.)
We are able to give our readers to day a port of the chemical analysis of the boo rative force of the "Universal Nation." In the midst of general apparent prosperity, the revulsion comes, and the mation bends beachth; Commerce is shattered, and the manufacturers "rest from their labora." Millions of real and speculative values are crashed, and the difficulties and vicissitudes of money-getting become the absorbing topic all over the land. But the people of this illimitable country known as the people of this illimitable country known as the Great West," though the last to be affects by the crust, are the first to seek the remedy. It is true that the gold in the hyperborean regions of her British Majesty proves to be imbedded in more formidable crystals than quarts, and it is diaguastingly true that the prairies and uplands of lows and Minnesota are less productive of gold than of the great staples of life. But in suite of these repeated mineachulations.

on a warrant issued by Justice Welsh, for as attempt to shoot Stephens with a pistol. The pistol was loaded with two balls, one of which is said to have rolled out before the pistol was discharged, and the other, owing, it is believed, to the insufficiency of the charge of powder, only want through his coat and lodged in the coliar, doing no bedily injury. Mr. Chuncey Schaeffer was sent for to defend the prisoner, and on conversing with him, learned that the cause of the attempt was a strong conviction in his mind that Stephens had murdered his wife, Sophia Stephens, the prisoner's aunt, by administering poison. Mr. Schaeffer had an interview with the Misses Bell, issters of the prisoner, who were living at Stephens house when their aunt died, and the result was that upon their affidavita, corroborating the suspicions of Robert Bell, Justice Welsh issued his warrant for the apprehension of Stephens on the charge of murder. Coroner Connery was notified, and on the 23d of September, just one year after her death, the body of Mrs. Stephens was disinterred at Greenwood Cemstery, and removed to Dr. Doremus for chemical analysis. The inquest in the meantime proceeded, (the examination took place, after which the body was consigned to Dr. Doremus for chemical analysis. The inquest in the meantime proceeded, (the examination before Justice Welsh having been suspended,) and it was proved that before his wife's death Stephens had proffered improper attententisms to Miss Sophia Bell; that he had threatened to leave his wife, and called her "old and peevish," (she was some 15 years his senior); that during her last illness he gave her suspicious-looking powders and large doses of laudanum; that he would suffer no one but himself of the bear of the death of the warmant of the proper attention of the propers of the brothers of Mrs. Stephens being prevents elergymen. The Misses Bell had lived with Stephens in 36th street two or three years previous to the death of their aunt. They entertained suspicions at the time of her dea But in spite of these repeated miscalculations, we have great raith in the unflagging energy, the "manifest destiny" of a people that seldom abandon an united undertaking. The West has need of gold—the raw material—and will have if if the Rocky Mountains are to be levelled in need of gold—the raw material—and with Angel if the Rocky Mountains are to be levelled in the search!

Whatever may be the immediate net results of these first discoveries of gold on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains, we believe that it is there, and in quantities sufficient to replenish rer long all the arteries of trade with its life-giving stream. The existence of gold in these regions is no new discovery. It has long been known that gold, as well as aliver, was scattered in marvellous abundance among the mongrel Spanish, "half-Spanish," and altogether indolent races that people the secluded though fertile valleys of the Roc Granda.

The commerce of the "Great Plains" which centers at Santa Fe in New Mexico, and Kamsas City on this frontier, has long contributed its millions annually to the circulating medium. The enormous imports of New Mexico and Chinushua, which are earlied in tentousand wagons from this city, are almost entirely liquidated in appecie, the product of "interior" mines. It is this golden trade that has formed an important part of the substantial prosperity of St. Loois, and which has in the past three years assisted in building up here at the mouth of the Kanaas the second commercial city in Missouri. Gold has also been found at various times among the wandering tribes whose hunting grounds are at the base and among the passes of the Rocky Mountains. If the sluggish descendants of Spain and the seattered tribes of Savages have for years "prospected" to advantage, what may not science and skill and numbers accomplish?

The stagnation of business, and consequent lage, what may not so seence and ariif and num-bers accomplish?

The stagnation of business, and consequent deprivations of the past twelve months, have prepared the whole country to join the hue and cry in pursuit of gold. Thousands are anx-iously waiting positive confirmation of the glow-ing accounts of the new Etdorado. Their acan't courriers are already in the field, and when the stdings again and again return with doubling assurance, as the wonder grows, the world will see an exodus exceeding the palmest days of California or Australia.

(From the Especial & O. Advertiser.)

It alrords us pleasure to state that, by a letter from the Hon. F. W. We take the liberty of copying a few observations of general importance.

"The interests of the two Governments (the Russian and American) are becoming daily more intimate. Our increasing settlements and trade in California and on the Pacific are bringing is into intercourse with the Russian possessions Suchanan is thus far unable to prevail on any one to become the successor of Gov. Politeness of the Prize Ring. The N. Y. Times, describing the Heenan and Morrissey effair, says: Morrissey effair, says:

All the courtesies of war were observed with the most delicate grace. At the close of the fight Morrissey was earried over to his fallen foe and in true French style kissed his hand in token of his valor. Both were borne from the field in the same wagon. This morning Heenan left "his card" on Morrissey, and Morrissey sent in return a gift of one handred dollars to Heenan, who, although he declined a purse presented, accepted Morrissey's gift in token of amity.

Notwithstanding the rowdy character of the surroundings, it is but justice to say that neither in Buffato nor the field of fight, whether from happy accident or good intention, was there any disturbance or breach of peace. The Quintessence of Scoundrelism The N. Y. Tribund's reporter thus descri what he saw at the late encounter between the what he saw at the late encounter between the puglists:

Probably no human eye will ever look upon so much rowdyism, villainy, scoundreism, and boiled-down victousness, concentrated upon so small a space, as was compressed into the few feet of seeing room about the ring of the Morriasey and Heenan fight of Oct. 20, 1858. Scoundreilsm of every imaginable genus, and every variety of every species, were there assembled; the characteristic raccalities of each were developed and displayed in all their devillah perfection. The talk of establishing the Prize Ring in America, under any orderly supervision, is aimple nonzense, jodging from the people present at Long Point on Wednesday last.

We are in favor of the "Bullion Bank," and therefore thus early give it our unqualified sanction. We want it because we want this "metropolis of the nation" to furnish one single spot where such a man as the late E. Francis, of Boston, can roll in his mint drops and then sleep in affectly. Odce he could lend money on bond and flow in a title and that was enough. No more money could be put to such a risk. Once he bought business paper, but that, contrary to the opinion of the Bank of England, was not "the best security in the world," and so he let that nione. Once he bought bank stocks, but time demonstrated that even the best of such institutions would break or mappend, and therefore they were diangerous, and should not be trusted. When he died, as all men, even rich men, must, it was found that his properly by actual appraisement was worth three million four hundred thousand dollars; and that of that sum two million two hundred thousand dollars; was actually in bank on deposit. During the late panie it is said Mr. Francie sent for a skillful builder to furnish him a "safe place" in his house for his millions. Like the Frenchman, he was sure the banks hadn't got the money, and therefore he wanted it. He wanted it where he could put his finger upon it. The honest mechanic told him that would never do, for if the panie was continued, his house would be torn down, and then his life as well as his money would be in dianger. Now had there been a "Bullion Bank," well protected by Sharpe's rifles in the hands of the soil men of that chivalrous city, all would have been safe, and the money of this millionaire would have remained undisturbed. He might, for aught we know, have been now in the leand of the living to watch a little longer that for which he had so long tolled, and also to have aided in establishing that "safe place" now se much talked of. he returned to his boarding-house and carried

An Extraordinary Bank Failure.

The failure of the Western Bank of Glasgow has spread unparalleled ruin throughout that city. Thirteen bundred families held investments in the concern, which in many cases constituted the soic dependence of aged professional men, widows, and orphan daughters. The total paid up capital was equal to 37,500,000. When the stoppage occurred, it was soon seen that the whole of that properly was swept sway, and that those who had nothing else would be reduced to destitution. It was hoped, however, that this would be the worst. In a little further time it transpired that there would be a stettiency of $1,500,000, in addition to the loss of the whole capital. A call of $125 per share was accordingly enforced on all who had anything left. This was thaily paid in June last. A full then intervened, and it was supposed that if there should happen to be any further call, it would be light. Complete astonishment was therefore felt on the Thu th, when it was announced that the deficiency, instead of being $1,500,000, had proved to be $7,000,000, and that upon each share a fresh payment of $500 would be required within twenty-four days.

A large proportion of the stockholders having been sirendy ruithed, the number of those able to respond is limited, and it is calculated that out of the thriteen bundred ont more than one hundred and $fity will ultimately have any property left. Many of the sufferers have died, some have become insane, children have been thrown on the charity of friends and strangers, and there is scarcely a family in the district hundred and fifty will ultimately have any property left. which is not to some extent afficied. One eminent retired merchant who had invested the whole of a large fortune in the concern, has

Among their chief apologists they have numbared Sir Archibald Alison, the author of the

The dectrine of the Immendate Conception brings comfort to the Protestant heart. That antecedent of the Virgin Mary's birth having been adjusted, and anottified, by the recent Papal bull on the subject, his Holineas finds it due to the divine character now affixed to her nature to forbid the use of her name as a present; and we accordingly have a decree, attested with all the insignis of Papal anthority, forbidding the true Catholic hereafter to call his child "Mary." Had the decree, going a step further, had reitcospective action, and unnamed the actual wearers of the prenomen, it would have been still more grateful. It would have been still more grateful. It would have been still more grateful. It would have the most powerful medium of devout aspiration to Heaven, has been unduly honored with this peculiar form of ascription. GENERAL INTELLIGENCE. $600 A Foot.—Within a few days past, the let of Mr. John McEwen, who keeps the confection ery store on the rast side of East Water street just south of Wisconsin, has been sold to a Milkman, for $600 a foot. The lot is 17 feet wid and 120 feet deep. The entire payment was mad in cash down, with the exception of between on and two thorsand dollars remaining on a shor mortgage. This sale is an excellent one for thest times, and certainly indicates that property still has a little life left. But this is one of the beparts of the city, and would command a goo price under almost any circumstance.—Milten ker Wisconsin, 26th.

The Floshda Isplans.—The remaining Indians in Florida, it appears, hove determined to become citzens. Pfueen of them visited Minnin, Florida, on the 1st inst., and announced their intention to settle, live in peace, and be governed and protected by the laws. They are engaged in clearing land near that town for agricultural purposes. Three of them could read and write.
